SERIOUS SHOOTING THREATENED RIOT

Excitment at Union, S. C., When Posse Was Shot by Negroes.

NINE WHITE MEN WOUNDED

Citizens Make Search For Negroes—Men Were Deputized to Quell Disturbance When Negroes Opened Fire.

Union, S. C., Nov. 22.—Following two days of tense excitement with a race riot of serious proportions, threatened as a result of the wholesale wounding of a deputy's posse by drunken negroes in the Eastern section of the city Sunday night, quiet prevails here tonight, and the officials believed they have the situation well in hand.

The negroes who did the shooting made their escape and this probably accounts for the fact that further disorders were not recorded yesterday and today. Late this afternoon one of the negroes charged with the shooting was arrested and lodged in jail. Three others for whom warrants were issued have not been apprehended.

Following repeated efforts on the part of Deputy Sheriff A. S. McCall to put a stop to the noisy revelry at a negro "frolic" Saturday night, he with a small party of citizens started for the house occupied by the negroes when the latter opened fire with shot guns, wounding nine men of the officer's forces, including the deputy sheriff, who received wounds in each leg.

The others wounded were: W. A. Dye, two loads of shot in chest and face; Boyd Harris, shot in legs; Herbert Brandon, shot in face and body; H. L. Timmons, shot in legs; Rudolph Lowe, both legs peppered with shot; Earl Bolling, shot in body; Albert Wright, body peppered with shot; Grady Reynolds, shot in head and body.

One negro was found in the house seriously wounded. It is said that he got within range of his companion's shots when the attack was made upon the officers.

Sheriff G. G. Long was summoned and immediately went to the scene with a posse armed with reepating rifles. The negroes had fled, however, and the sheriff and his men directed their attention to a systematic search of the negro section for the guilty ones but without result. A large quantity of whiskey was found in the house occupied by the negroes. Later the wounded negro was found by the officers near the house, where he had crawled after his companions fled.

Dye is the most seriously wounded of those shot, but it is not thought his wounds will prove fatal. Eighty-three shots were removed from his body today.

COL. ASTOR LIKELY SAFE.

His Yacht Believed to be Anchored in San Juan Harbor.

Tampa, Fla., Nov. 22.—Brief wireless communication between Key West and San Juan, Porto Rico, this morning served to complicate rather than to clear the situation surrounding Col. John Jacob Astor's yacht Nourmahal. But after sifting matters down tonight there is nothing to indicate that the yacht is not safe at San Juan or was at least there November 15th as reported by the steamship Caracas Sunday, and confirmed by that vessel's captain again today.

The fact that the wireless operator at San Juan could not state off-hand this morning that the yacht was in the harbor gave rise to a report that the vessel was still missing. But this interpretation, according to a statement issued by the operator at Tampa tonight is unfounded and due solely to the fact that the San Juan operator in his station was not aware of the presence of the yacht in the harbor.

Because of interrupted communication of late the operator at San Juan knew nothing of the anxiety for the Nourmaha, and when asked specifically if the yacht was there replied simply that he did not know. Soon thereafter communication was interrupted leaving the situation open, but in no wise according to all appearances, questioning the reliability of the reports of the Nourmahal's safety as given at Willemstad yesterday and at Caracas again today by the steamship Caracas.

In order that the brief conversation between Key West and San Juan might not be taken to indicate that it has been ascertained positively that the Nourmahal is not at San Juan, S. W. Hance, in charge of the wireless station at Tampa, sent the Associated Press a message tonight in which he said:

"Absolutely no truth in the report regarding wireless received here via Key West about yacht Nourmahal not being at San Juan."

Hance added that he was still trying to get in direct touch with San Juan with the hope of getting from the operator there positive assurance of the Nourmahal's presence in the harbor which, according to the best deductions the Porto Rico operator was unable to give this morning merely because of lack of information.

EASTERN CAROLINA LEAGUE

Baseball Directors in Session at Rocky Mount Yesterday—Durham Applies For Admission—Another Sessions to be Held.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Wilson, N. C., Nov. 22.—There was a lively meeting of the directors of the Eastern Carolina Baseball Association in this city this afternoon with the following league towns represented: Goldsboro, Horace King; Wilmington, R. H. Gwatney; Fayetteville, Capt. G. H. Napier; Rocky Mount, J. W. Mason; Wilson, J. C. Eagles; Raleigh, C. H. Gattis. Durham was represented by J. L. Morehead.

The meeting was called to order by T. M. Washington, president, who appointed J. L. Horne, Jr., to act as secretary. C. H. Gattis, of Raleigh, introduced J. L. Morehead, of Durham. Mr. Morehead stated that Durham desired admission to the Eastern Carolina League if there was a vacancy. Mr. Gattis stated a disastrous season had resulted for the past two years in Raleigh; that a new park would have to be provided next year; that several meetings had been held this year to enthuse interest but with little success; he thought that Raleigh was done with ball unless Durham was allowed a franchise. He said that Raleigh would enter on two conditions, provided that Durham be admitted so that a stock company could be formed and take over the present franchise. He showed that the team was not financially strong, but believed he could interest a sufficient number of business men to invest money provided Durham might be admitted. He said that they were not here to put Rocky Mount out, but would be willing to vote for any vacancy that would be favored by the League. He said Raleigh enthusiasts were informed that Rocky Mount would not play.

Mr. Cotton, of Fayetteville, and Mr. Gwaltney, of Wilmington, wanted Durham in the League but were not willing to kick out any town, but if Durham wished to purchase Rocky Mount's franchise or that of any other club, they would be satisfied and only on these conditions Durham should enter. Mr. Gwaltney moved that the League remain intact as at present and that a meeting be called to be held in Rocky Mount on Tuesday, November 30th, at 4 P. M.

At this meeting Raleigh is to give an answer as to whether or not she wishes to retain her franchise in the League, otherwise her place to be filled by some other town. This motion was seconded by J. W. Mason, of Rocky Mount, and passed without a dissenting vote.

The question as to games played when percentage of gate receipts is not taken, was settled after an hour's discussion, when it was moved by Mr. Mason, seconded by Mr. Gwaltney, that the guarantee be made $55 with a rain guarantee of $35, as compared with $40 and $25 last season. There was a tie vote on this, yeas Rocky Mount, Wilmington and Raleigh; noes, Fayetteville, Goldsboro and Wilson. The vote was decided by the president.

WARRENTON, VA. IS FIRE SWEPT

TOWN UNDER MARTIAL LAW

Water Supply Exhausted by Unprecedented Drought of Seven Weeks. Dynamite Used to Stay Flames—Loss Heavy.

Warrenton, Va., Nov. 22.—Following a fire that threatened to wipe out the town, Warenton tonight lies under martial law and four blocks of buildings in the heart of the city are smoking ruins.

Only by the use of dynamite was the town saved from complete destruction, for the drought of seven weeks that has held this part of Virginia in its grip had completely exhausted the water supply, even that needed for drinking purposes being shipped here.

The presence of the militia is necessary to guard the furniture, valuables and office and store fixtures now stacked in the main street. These were taken from homes and places of business when the flames threatened and their owners left to aid their neighbors in the saving of other property. So far there has been no attempt at looting and a strong guard with loaded rifles is patrolling the scene.

The fire which started in the loft of a down-town livery owned by Bradburn & Clatterbuck, spready quickly under a brisk south wind. The flames spread along Waterloo and Winchester street, taking in the space formed by the juncture of the two thoroughfares. Among the buildings destroyed were the skating rink, the annex to the Warren Green Hotel, T. E. Pattie's store, Jennings Furniture Co., and the residences of W. A. Warner, F. C. Brooks, Mrs. Elizabeth Wall, Dr. F. B. Butler, Mrs. F. M. Moore, Moses Hall and J. B. Kemper.

The dynamiting of four buildings made a breach in the fire zone that checked the progress of the flames which fianlly burned out. The Court House and the postoffice were saved only by the most strenuous efforts, which failed to save the building in which were located the council chamber and the mayor's office.

The damage is reported tonight to be between $65,000 and $75,000 with insurance of about $56,000.

Warrenton, which is the county seat of Faquier county, has a population of about 1,600, many of whom are wealthy Englishmen who have purchased valuable estates in that vicinity and who breed a fine grade of horses for exhibition purposes. Warrenton is noted for its fine horse shows, many of the fashionable set from New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington and Richmond, Va., and other places usually attending. The place is famed as a Summer resort for neighboring cities.

WINS FREIGHT RATE FIGHT.

Action of Circuit Court Victory For Commerce Commission.

Philadelphia, Nov. 22.—The Interstate Commerce Commission secured an important victory in the matter of the establishment of freight rates today when the United States Circuit Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania sustained the demurrer filed by the Commission asking for the dismissal of the suit brought by the Baltimore and Ohio and other railroads to enjoin the Commission from enforcing its orders of June 7, 1909, whereby it established a tariff rate on big vein coal carried from the Georges Creek and Elk river regions in Maryland to Atlantic coast points in other States.

The railroads sought to have the Commission enjoined reducing the rate and the Commission filed a demurrer asking for the dismissal of the suit which the court sustained.

The case was heard by Judges Gray, Buffington and Lanning and the opinion was filed late this afternoon by Judge Buffington. The complainants in the action besides the Baltimore and Ohio were the Philadelphia and Reading, Western Maryland, the Pennsylvania, Cumberland Valley and the Lehigh and New England roads.

Two hundred thousand feet of lumber was rendered useless in the crash. The loss to the Contentenea Guano Company which was erecting the building is estimated at $20,000.

ALL SIGNS OF LIFE NOW DISAPPEAR

MORE RESCUERS TO AID

One Man Appeared to be Alive But Efforts to Restore Him Were Fruitless—More Excitement During the Day.

Cherry, Ill., Nov. 22.—Efforts to reach men possibly still alive in the St. Paul mine were in vain today in two parts of the underground workings. Although excitement was caused by the finding of a dead miner, who was at first thought to be alive, the net result of today's work was the recovery of 42 bodies.

Rain fell all night and during the forenoon turned to snow. Scarcely a kinsman of the missing men was at the mine today. But efforts to explore underground continued with unabated vigor. Dozens of volunteers worked against exasperating impediments to extend the limit of their explorations.

"They're still alive down there!" was the watchword of every worker, although evidence in support of it was meagre.

The first tangible evidence that the men in the east workings were not killed when the fire broke out on Saturday was the failure to find any bodies where it was predicted a large number would be found if the men were smothered in their first rush for safety.

Many mining implements were found, but not a dinner pail was to be seen. From this it was argued that the men unable to escape when the fire was discovered retreated to some extremity of the mine, carrying their food with them. But this was the extent of inspiring discoveries for the day.

The situation to date: Number trapped in mine 310; Rescued alive 20; bodies recovered today 42; bodies recovered previously 55; still unaccounted for 189.

Excitement Over Miner.

It was believed that another man had been taken out of the mine alive. He was found among a lot of dead bodies and was at first thought to be alive, but later upon examination he was found to be dead. A new force of rescuers has been sent down in the hope of recovering more live men.

The man after being taken to the hospital car was pronounced dead by the physicians in charge and the body was removed to the morgue. The body still was warm and this had led to the belief of the rescuers that he was alive. One of the rescuers excitedly told of hearing the man moan after he had been placed on the stretcher, but this was pronounced a mistake by the physicians.

While uncertain as to the time of death, they believe it had occurred at least 12 hours before being placed on the stretcher. The temperature of the mine, which is higher than 60 degrees caused by the fire, as yet unextinguished, undoubtedly was the cause of the warmth of the body. Wild scenes followed the carrying of the man to the hospital car.

"They are alive!" came the cry from all sides and a rush that almost carried the bearers off their feet began. The soldiers were hurried to the spot and forced back the crowd, while physicians and nurses worked

GOVERNMENT LOSS HEAVY BY FRAUDS

WILL PROHIBIT ALL FRAUDS

Important Conference on the Situation Yesterday—Reference to Sugar Trust Investigation—MacVeagh's Statement.

Washington, Nov. 22.—In a conference at the Treasury Department in which Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh, Attorney General Wickersham, Collector Loeb, of the port of New York, and United States District Attorney Henry A. Wise, of the Southern District of New York, participated, institution of criminal prosecutions against perpetrators of "sleeper trunk" customs frauds, with ramifications in all parts of the country; the pressing of existing indications to avoid lapses under the statute of limitations and the customs investigation generally were discussed.

Incidentally Secretary MacVeagh announced that the $2,000,000 odd which the American Sugar Refining Company had paid to the government on account of evasion of duties was regarded by the government as a complete settlement for all its underweighing frauds, but that amount affected no other evasions of duty and in nowise figured as to any other matters and that the government purposed to recover much more money as the result of the frauds the so-called trust had committed.

At the conclusion of the conference which lasted over two and a half hours, Secretary MacVeagh said the sugar frauds overshadowed in interest one of the most important phases of the whole investigation, the commission of frauds by importers bringing in trunks with false bottoms, involving losses to the government of millions of dollars.

Beyond the generalization of millions of dollars nobody officially can estimate the amount of taxes thus evaded. Most of the violators of the law in this respect are dress-makers, who make annual visits or oftener to France and other countries, gather up the expensive foreign creations and bring them to this country for their patrons. The government has a good deal of evidence along this line and the prosecutions for this form of wholesale dishonesty promise to be of a sensational character.

Collector Loeb expressed the opinion today that the "sleeper trunk" frauds could not be carried on successfully under the present rules. These provide for a new stamp arrangement for trunks and a limitation of the hours a trunk may remain on the docks instead of being permitted to stay there long enough to be whisked away after nightfall. Instead the government will stow away the trunks in a place safe from possibility of smuggling off the trunks in the darkness. Watchmen posted at the custom house gates have special instructions about not permitting goods to pass them without the evidence of the strictest inspection.

Secretary MacVeagh declared today that he had no knowledge of reported offers of $600,000 and $500,000, respectively, by independent sugar refining companies to the government to drop cases against them. Secretary MacVeagh indicated today that he was not disposed to take up immediately the question of remuneration for the first information of the frauds.

Edwin I. Anderson, a former employe of the American Sugar Refining Company, who has made a claim on the Treasury Department for compensation for the data he gave the government, called with his counsel, Francis Dryiff, of New York. They talked with Secretary MacVeagh a few minutes and asked to see the papers of Surveyor Richard Parr, who has also filed a claim with the department. Parr's claim was refused by Assistant Secretary Reynolds, a couple of years ago on a ruling prohibiting customs employes from receiving any bonus. Mr. MacVeagh declined to allow them to see the papers on the ground that he saw no good reason why they should demand it.

SPENCER STRIKE CONTINUES.

Machinists Refuse to Return to Work —Conference Yesterday.

Spencer, N. C., Nov. 22.—Although many conferences between A. McGillivary, district president, of the International Association of Machinists, and the 180 striking machinists at Spencer were held today no settlement has been reached. The men who walked out of the shops Saturday charging brutal treatment on the part of a foreman have retired orderly and declare they will follow the advice of the international officers.

The strikers demanded the removal of the offending foreman and the Southern Railway officials denied that there was sufficient cause and the strike followed. It is believed the matter will be adjusted within the next few days.

ALLEGED MURDERER TAKEN

(By Long Distance Telephone.)

Whiteville, N. C., Nov. 22.—The young white man named Bufkin, charged with the killing of Jeff Fisher, also white, four miles south of here early the night of November 5th, was captured by Sheriff A. S. Richardson and posse of nine men in a bay near Causey, S. C., early yesterday morning and has been landed in jail here.

It was only after several shots were exchanged between the fugitive and Sheriff Richardson, the latter having been severely but not seriously wounded, that the capture of Bufkin was effected, the prisoner having been finally forced to surrender by threats of the posse to burn him out of his camp in the swamp unless he gave himself up. Sheriff Richardson was wounded in the face, stomach and about the arms with No. 4 shot fired by the fugitive from his ambuscade in the swamp which was surrounded by the posse, all hands having been closing in at the time the sheriff was shot.

On Saturday Sheriff Richardson received information that Bufkin had secreted himself in a bay near Causey, just over the line in South Carolina, near where his father has a saw mill. Sheriff Richardson at once gathered about him nine good men, well armed, and went down to Causey on the early train. The posse took along with them a blood hound from the county convict camp, but the fugitive had been so well located that upon arrival the party surrounded the bay in which Bufkin was in hiding and immediately began closing in upon him. Sheriff Richardson was the first to come within range of the fugitive's camp, which was located in the undergrowth and his first notice of his near approach to the prisoner was a gun shot. Sheriff Richardson returned the fire in the direction from which the first shot came, but it was to no effect, the sheriff having been dropped to his knees with several No. 4 shot in the abdomen at the first fire. As he raised to fire again, there was another shot from the ambush and the officer was struck with several shot in the arm and face. A third time the fugitive fired when other members of the posse came up and the prisoner was forced to come from his hiding by threats to set fire to the swamp and shoot him to death when he came out. Bufkin finally agreed to surrender if assured immunity from violence and he came forth and was disarmed by the men. The capture was effected about 10 A. M., and the prisoner was immediately brought to Whiteville on the noon train and anded in jail for trial at the term of court which will convene Monday week.

The crime with which Bufkin is charged occurred at the home of Mr. Duncan after an altercation with Duncan and Fisher on the road from Chadbourn. It is stated that there had been bad blood between Duncan and Bufkin for some time and that while the first named and young Fisher were returning home from Chadbourn they were accosted in the road by Bufkin, who held the bridle of the mule which the two men were driving and roundly abused them. Duncan made an effort to get out of the buggy at Bufkin and Fisher whipped up the mule and they got away, but not until Bufkin had cut Duncan severely in the arm. Duncan and Fisher went on to the home of the first named and while the latter was dressing his wounded arm, it is stated that Bufkin, who had gone by his home in the meantime, came up to the house and in shooting at Duncan, killed Fisher. He then made his escape and was not heard of until Saturday. It is stated that he had a regular camp built in the thick bay near Causey and that his meals were supplied to him there. Bufkin is well connected in the county and it is expected that he will put up a strong fight in the courts. Sheriff Richardson was doing very well tonight and though he has some fever, it is expected that he will be all right in a few days.

A negro was brought here today on the noon train from Fair Bluff, Columbus county, and placed in jail, charged with having brained a white man named Lupo there yesterday morning with a brick. It is stated that Mr. Lupo is very dangerously wounded and may die. It is learned that two negroes were implicated in the assault but only one of them was caught. The particulars have not yet been learned.

Kills Her Foe of 20 Years.

"The most merciless enemy I had for 20 years," declares Mrs. James Duncan, of Haynesville, Me., "was dyspepsia. I suffered intensely after eating or drinking and could scarcely sleep. After many remedies had failed and several doctors gave me up I tried Electric Bitters, which cured me completely. Now I can eat anything. I am 70 years old and am overjoyed to get my health and strength back again." For indigestion, loss of appetite, kidney trouble, lame back, female complaints, it's unequaled. Only 50c at R. R. ESTATE GOES TO SISTER

Will of Marquise Merinville Leaves Nothing to Husband.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 22.—Whatever interest in the Marquise Des Monstiers de Merinville, who was Miss Mary Gwendaline Byrd Caldwell, of Louisville, had in the Caldwell estate goes mostly, under the will of the marquise, which was filed today for probate, to her sister, the Baroness Caldwell von Zedwitz.

Two bequests of $10,000 each are made, one to John Ridgley Carter of London, Eng., and one to Charles H. Carter, of Baltimore, Md., another distant cousin. Waldemar Conrad von Zedwitz, her nephew ,gets $100,000. Two other small bequests are made and the residue interest goes to the sister.

Reference is made to the husband of the marquise only to provide that he shall have nothing further out of estate than his provided for in the marriage contract she had with him.

Until the marquise renounced the Catholic faith, it had been said that she would leave much to the church. However, under her will the church is not mentioned. The Caldwell estate is one of the oldest in Louisville and the will disposes of interests valued at $1,000,000.

GOMPERS CAUSES STRIKE.

2,000 Waist-Makers Decided They Would Quit After His Address.

New York, Nov. 22.—After hearing Samuel Gompers speak at Cooper Union tonight, 2,000 members of the ladies Waist-Makers Union voted to go on strike tomorrow for shorter hours and higher wages. At the same time, three other divisions of the union, representing about 15,000 more employes, met in parts of the city and cast their votes with similar results.

Mr. Gompers, in his address at Cooper Union said:

"There comes times when to refuse to strike is to be slaves. Conditions in the clothing trade are a blot on civilization—at stake in this contest of yours are the lives and futures of many men and women. It is time that you were aroused. If you let this opportunity go by, it may be generations before you again get the opportunity to improve your conditions."

KILLED BY NEGROES.

Lumberman Set Upon by Blacks and Put to Death.

Bennettsville, S. C., Nov. 21.—News has reached here from Madeline, a station on the Bennettsville & Cheraw Railroad, that C. B. Connor, a lumberman, was murdered there yesterday morning by three negroes, Tom Harrington, Will Harrington and Ed Davis, all of North Carolina. The negroes escaped.

Connor, it seems, suspected Davis of stealing a pistol. When he went to investigate he was set upon by the negroes, who knocked him down and then fired two shots into his head.

Connor came to Madeline several months ago from Wilmots, N. C. He leaves a wife and three children.

WONDERFUL HOW IT CURED

Says Miss Gertrude Gatlin, of Timberville, Miss., After She Had Taken Cardui For Her Pains.

Timberville, Miss.—Miss Gertrude Gatlin of this place writes:

"I did not know that anything could stop the womanly pains from which I had suffered for two years, until I tried your wonderful medicine, Cardui.

"I had been troubled with various female ailments, but they were cured in a little while, thanks to Cardui.

"When I hear any of my friends say they feel bad, I tell them to try Cardui. It is a blessing to womanhood."

Not every tonic will bring back woman's health.

Cardui, the woman's tonic medicine, will do both, by the power of its unique, specific, curative, strengthening ingredients, especially adapted for use in cases of female ailments.

Composed exclusively of pure, vegetable materials, with a gentle, strengthening action on the system, Cardui is perfectly harmless to young and old and can be relied upon to have absolutely no bad after-effects.

Thousands of thankful ladies have written to tell of the benefit Cardui has been to them. Why not to you?

Will you try it?

Please do.

Easy, Flexible Soles for Tired, Tortured Feet

"Breaking in a shoe is as bad as a boil." No man can work hard—or play hard—if his feet are cramped and plagued and pinched by stiff, unyielding soles.

Here is a shoe that makes new shoes a pleasure. It will make you forget your feet.

The CRADDOCK SHOE

$3.50 All Leathers $4.00

with a flexible sole is a new idea in men's shoes. To our knowledge it is the only man's shoe made with this feature.

If your feet have got you scared, try a pair of Craddock Shoes made flexible. Try a pair anyway and let your stiffened, leather-bound foot muscles stretch out in relief. The vamps and tops are of soft, durable, velvety vici kid. The sole is as pliable as an old moccasin and not a bit of style is sacrificed for comfort.

THE STATE IN EPITOME

News, Comment and Incidents as Reflected in North Carolina: IN EPITOME

"Southbound" Trains By August.

News and Observer: Mr. Devlin of the Wadesboro Messenger & Intelligencer, says that Chief Engineer Cornell, of the Southbound Railroad, expects that the rails will be laid by the first of next August and that trains will run through from Winston-Salem to Wadesboro by October.

Probably Shot Himself.

Shelby Aurora: Ernest Dymott, the white man who has been in jail here since October 25th upon the statement of J. J. Reed, that Dymott was believed to be the party who shot him (Reed), was given a hearing before the Recorder today. Dymott proved an alibi. It was also shown that Reed who died Friday suffered from neurasthenia. It is believed he shot himself during a temporary attack of insanity.

Fayetteville Business Activity.

On Monday week, November 29th, Messrs. Holladay & Crouse, who got the contract for the erection of the Government building here, at their bid of $53,635, will begin the work of construction. They are given until November 15th, 1910, to complete the building. With this building, the Kress building and other contemplated new buildings on Hay street in course of construction, that street will present a busy scene this winter.

Two Brothers Meet For First Time.

Salisbury Aurora: Two brothers, both comparatively old men natives of Davidson county, Wakefield by name, met for the first time in Salisbury Saturday. The older of the two left North Carolina over 40 years ago for Indiana and four years after his departure his brother was born, the latter of whom now resides in Winston. That their meeting was touching and affecting is certain.

Examiner Doughton Safely Convalescent.

News and Observer: The many friends of Mr. J. Kemp Doughton State Bank Examiner, will be glad to know that he continues to improve. He is in the sanitarium at Lenoir, and at one time his life was despaired of, but his will and good constitution pulled him through. He hopes to be able to go to Sparta, Alleghany county, on Thanksgiving Day to spend the day with his parents.

Great Interurban Road.

Special to Charlotte Chronicle: Anderson, S. C., Nov. 20.—The Dukes of North Carolina and New York, who recently purchased the Anderson Traction Company today announced their intention of extending an interurban line to Spartanburg, S. C. and Greensboro, N. C., northward, and to either Abbeville or Greenwood on the east so as to connect with the Seaboard Air Line Railroad. They also say the road will do a freight as well as passenger business.

Damages Asked For Autopsy.

Durham Sun: The Burlington News says that it is understood that relatives of the young man, Chester Riley, of Haw River, who died at a hospital in Greensboro last week will enter suit against the doctors for performing an autopsy on the body without first obtaining permission from the relatives. The News adds that it seems that after the death of the young man, which was sudden from peritonitis, the physicians wanted to find out if there were other complications and performed the operation after death had taken place.

Tiger Troubles in Wadesboro.

Special to Charlotte Chronicle: Wadesboro, Nov. 20.—The continued violation of the prohibition law in Wadesboro is awakening the people. The officers seem to be unable to catch the violators of the law and there is considerable street talk concerning the situation. The Ansonian yesterday editorially made several telling hits and the curb conversation today is directed thereby. Wadesboro has not passed an ordinance against the sale of "near-beer" and this article is on sale in several places There is talk of a citizens committee to take the matter in hand and force the officers to their duty.

Jailed on Serious Charge.

Greenville Reflector: John and Lam Adams, brothers of Norwood Adams, recently convicted of counterfeiting by the Federal court in Newbern and sentenced to a term in the Federal prison in Atlanta, were brought here Friday and placed in jail on the charge of burning the home of Julia Gardner, of Contentnea township, one of the witnesses against them in the recent counterfeiting trial. These men had threatened to burn Julia's house if she testified against them in the trial, which she did, and they apparently carried out their threats. While all three of the Adams' were convicted of counterfeiting, John and Lam were turned loose on account of a disease they were supposed to be suffering from.

Paralytic Burned to Death.

Salisbury Post: Mrs. D. Sadler Brown met a tragic death at her home on North Long street yesterday afternoon, death being caused by burns. Just how Mrs. Brown's clothing caught will probably never be known as no one was in the house with her at the time except her aged father, Mr. Greene Cauble, who is totally blind. About half past three o'clock Pink Hall, a white youth, and a negro man who were passing by the house, heard Mrs. Brown scream. They rushed to the house and found her in a crouching position against the wall in the hallway. The lad immediately grabbed a quilt and threw it around her but practically every garment had been burned and her whole body was black from burns. Her father, who had attempted to assist her, was burned about the hands. Dr. McKenzie was summoned but Mrs. Brown was beyond all aid and died at 6 o'clock. Mrs. Brown suffered an attack of paralysis some time ago and it is thought probable that she had another stroke and was unable to assist herself when she tottered too near the fire.

BATTLE CASE NOW ON.

Greensboro Cashier Being Tried in Federal Court.

(Greensboro Telegram.)

An adjourned term of the United States court will convene tomorow morning at 11 o'clock for the purpose of trying the case of United States vs. Lee H. Battle. The trial of the case will probably consume the entire week or more.

Mr. Battle, who was formerly cashier of the City National Bank, bankrupt, is indicted on three specific charges—false entries, overdraft of account of the Pomona Manufacturing Company and overdraft of his personal account. There are forty counts in the bill of indictment, which document covers about ninety typewritten pages.

The case was called at the April term, 1909, but was continued for the defense on the ground that counsel had not had sufficient time to look over the bill of indictment, which had been returned three days previous. The case was called the second time at the October term, but was continued for the government on account of the critical condition of the son of District Attorney A. E. Holton. At this time it was ordered that the October term of court be adjourned until November 22nd for the purpose of disposing of the case.

Mr. Battle is represented by Stedman & Cooke, Ex-Judge Spencer B. Adams and R. C. Strudwick and Capt. F. P. Hobgood, Jr. District Attorney A. E. Holton, of Winston, and Assistant District Attorney A. L. Coble, of Statesville, will appear for the government. The case will be one of the hardest fought of any ever tried in this city and the interest in the proceedings will be intense. A small army of witnesses will be on hand and the court room will be packed during the trial.

TURKEY DRIVING.

Scenes of Half a Century Ago Are Excelled.

(R. T. Bennett, in Wadesboro Ansonian.)

In the fall of our year a half century since turkeys, like fatted hogs, were driven along highways in droves of thousands. It was diverting to such persons as watched the development of a drove to remark the obedience to discipline which was the rule of the road as to the fowls.

As night came on, if the driver failed to attain the point of design, that is his camping place, the turkeys instinctively took to timber, where they perched upon limbs of trees until the Darling of Day feebly indicated daylight. If some members of the driven were foot-sore or lame of wing, a hatchet being requisitioned, small timber half cut down, the balance bent over, proved the residuary mount for them.

Three or five thousand turkeys not infrequently composed the drove. They were diligent to catch their meals, is possible, as they went. Failing in this, corn was husked and shelled and scattered to their comfort. They shone best when descending in the early morn and extending their wings ran a little forward and flapped their feathers as if about to essay flight. Their plumage was beautiful and testified to the sweet meat of their bodies.

GOLDSBORO PREENING HERSELF.

High School Football Team Anxious For Revenge.

(Goldsboro Argus.)

A game of football which promises to be a fine one, will be played here November 25th between the high school teams of Wilmington and Goldsboro.

A few weeks ago the Wilmington team defeated our boys by a close score of 6 to 0. Now our boys are anxious to get another chance at that team. Both teams have been practicing daily for this game, which will be the greatest of the season for the two teams.

All next week the boys and girls of the school will spend their leisure time in making up and practicing yells, roots, hisses and etc. They will be on the field of play promptly, with our colors of blue and grey. And with plenty of roots and cheers for the home team, and hisses for that of Wilmington.

We have made some changes in our team which we expect to work with great advantage. We have also been practicing some new plays which we expect to make good against the Wilmington team. The Wilmington team has also been practicing, and under their most excellent coach, Mr. Siegel.

The game will be played at Athletic Park Thursday, November 25, at four o'clock.

S.S.S. CURES BLOOD POISON

Removing the outward symptoms is not all that is necessary to cure Contagious Blood Poison. The virulent germs which produce these external manifestations must be completely driven from the blood before a real cure can be effected. The least taint left in the circulation will sooner or later cause a fresh outbreak of the trouble, with all its hideous symptoms of ulcerated mouth and throat, copper-colored spots, falling hair, sores and ulcers, etc. Only a blood purifier can cure Contagious Blood Poison. Medicines which merely check the symptoms for a time, because of their strong mineral nature, and leave the poison smouldering in the system, have brought disappointment to thousands. The disease always returns after such treatment. S. S. S. cures Contagious Blood Poison and cures it permanently. It goes into the blood, and removes every particle of the poison, making the circulation pure, rich and healthy, nor does S. S. S. leave the slightest trace of the disease for future outbreaks. S. S. S. does not contain any mineral ingredient, but is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, which are most valuable in their blood-purifying properties, and at the same time specifically adapted to building up the entire system. If you have Contagious Blood Poison S. S. S. will cure you because it will thoroughly purify your Blood. Home Treatment Book and any medical advice free to all.

DR. JAS. W. POWELL

Wilmington, N. C., Nov. 21, 1909.

Dear Friends: It may seem a broad statement to you, but it's a well known fact that there is hardly more than One person in a thousand who does not need some form of Dental attention—maybe nothing more than a thorough brushing by a reliable Dentist, but in most cases, a filling, replacing a lost tooth by Bridgework, or possibly an entire set. This is a personal letter to you, calling your attention to one of the most important duties you owe to yourself, your family and your friends.

'Tis mighty poor economy on your part to neglect having your mouth put in proper condition—later it will cost more money—and pain. Nothing adds more to ones personal appearance than a nice looking mouth, showing well kept teeth, and this, you can easily and quickly have by calling on us—and it will not cost you much either—not near so much as at other places. And our work is The Best that can be had at Any Price. We Guarantee all of our work to be the Best, and our prices to be the lowest commensurate with first class work. I have one of the best equipped Dental offices in the South and want your patronage. I am here to serve you, to do good work and to make it to your advantage to patronize this office. I don't claim to be infallible in all instances, we all make mistakes, but we correct them here just as cheerfully as we make them.

We want everybody pleased, and work with this in view, and are proud of the fact that No Office in Eastern Carolina enjoys a larger patronage. This is made possible only by our good work, quick service, and Low Prices.

Our Crown, Bridge and Plate Department is The Best that it can be made. Others will tell you that we don't do as we advertise—all we ask is that you come and see—you will be convinced that we are doing as we advertise every day just the same. Come in and talk it over with us and let's see just what you need, and what it will cost. Then we will advise you just as we think best—this will cost you nothing, and we will be glad to see you whether you give us the work or not.

Write us or phone for an engagement—our work is so pleasing, our prices so attractive, that we are sure you will become one of our friends and patrons.

Yours truly,
DR. JAS. W. POWELL,
Dental Surgeon.

"TIN HORN" FARMERS.

There is daily accumulation of evidence indicating a deplorable want of business integrity among the farmers in many sections of this and other Southern States. The charge, tersely put, is that many farmers, after selling in good faith that which they did not actually have, but which they had every reason to believe they would grow, have deliberately refused to carry out their contracts. The result is that the merchants with whom they contracted have been led into making commitments which they have since found it impossible to fulfill except at great loss. In at least one instance, such a refusal to comply with the obligations of their contracts has caused the bankruptcy of a mercantile house which relied upon its farmer-customers' good faith. A dispatch from Rock Hill, S. C., says:

"A petition was filed here today before C. W. F. Spencer, referee in bankruptcy, adjudging as bankrupt Messrs. Shannon & Hope of Sharon, a firm which has done a big mercantile business for a number of years. It is stated that the firm on the strength of buying contracts with neighboring farmers, sold several hundred bales of cotton for Fall delivery and that the farmers with whom the contracts were made refused to bring in the cotton, hence the firm's loss and the present action. They give liabilities at $35,000, with assets of $20,000."

There is, in this sort of transaction, no element of gambling, or "bucket-shopping" within the meaning of the State law against gambling in futures. The farmers concerned had the land, the labor and the moral certainty of making cotton in certain amounts. By selling to the merchant at ten cents, they assured themselves in advance a profit on their year's labor. Doubtless, although it is not so stated, they obtained on the strength of such contracts supplies or money from the merchant, who looked to the cotton to be delivered to him for his security. Had the price of cotton followed the course it has taken so often and declined in price upon the heavy Fall receipts, the farmers who made these agreements would have come cheerfully into market to carry out their contracts to the letter. They would have been pleased with themselves and carried a large "side" as financially shrewd individuals. When cotton took the opposite course, however, and went up, the farmers sold their cotton elsewhere, and the man whom they would cheerfully have "done" was left to go into bankruptcy because, on the faith he had in these farmers, he had pledged his own faith to others.

We repeat, there is no question of gambling here. It is a question of ordinary, every-day honesty, or dishonesty. The farmer who holds his cotton until he has to sell, is, if he be offered a fair price beforehand, as much of a "gambler" as the one who accepts the price. The world is glad of his nerve when he wins and sorry for his loss when his hopes fail to materialize. But there should be properly nothing but scorn for a class of people who are willing to take a chance if they can win something, but are unwilling, even at the price of their honor, to let the other fellow win anything. Such people are the very meanest sort of "tin horn" sports, and their punishment is as certain as it will be hard, to lose that confidence of the business world upon which all enterprise, large or small, is builded, and without which no enterprise can hope to long succeed.

As a solution of the question of municipal reform, the Charlotte Chronicle advacotes the "hiring" of a "professional Mayor". Charlotte may own a jewel, for all we know to the contrary, but the best recommended "hired man" generally has his weak spots developed by experience. Besides, a man who has nothing to do except to learn the profession of holding office is scarcely apt to be the one the office needs. The preparation necessary is too long and the employment too uncertain to justify men of ambition in "taking the course".

Says the Petersburg Indet-Appeal: "The Danville Register arraigns the Atlanta Constitution on its grammar, and has no word of rebuke for the guilty linotype. Many an innocent editor suffers for the sins of that machine." Yes, and many an ignorant one finds the reputation of the machine a God-send, as affording a step-ladder out of a hole.

WANTED: MORE FACTS.

At the waterways convention in Norfolk, Mr. Taft made one striking statement, which he strikingly applied. It puts in authoritative form the negative of what has appeared to us to be the defect in the country-wide agitation for waterways improvement: that there has been too great a stress upon oratory, too much reliance upon banquets, too much enthusiasm at the platitudinous utterances of prominent men.

In Mississippi, as we noted at the time, the banqueters, in convention assembled, displayed a sense of dismay combined with a spirit of rage that Mr. Taft and the members of the waterways commission had not committed themselves to the fourteen foot channel out of hand. Amid great enthusiasm they declared that they would send five hundred lobbyists to Washington, and the entire spirit of the meeting was that of "waterways or bust."

It is a hard thing to say to hope, but the "busting" is generally the alternative that falls to the lot of this class of propagandists. "Pike's Peak" was not conquered by any such slogan, but remained to fall at length to the credit of men of science, who knew how, who calculated difficulties, and who prepared to meet them in advance.

In the same way any scheme for waterways development must be presented by experts as familiar with their subject as a banker with the day's balance sheet. Figures must take the place of claims. Fact must succeed possibly. Knowledge must take the place of confidence.

President Taft said:

"Seriously speaking, my dear friends, I think it is a ripe moment to say that conventions are good and speeches are good of a general character in stirring up a movement toward a result, but you don't reach the result and you never will until you get measures and facts and details with which those who are responsible shall become familiar, so as to enable them to make plans, draft again and feel confident that the result of that legislation when carried out will bring about specific benefits. You have got to be specific. You have got to come down to facts in order to get dollars. At least that is the attitude that Congress is going to take."

We would not be understood as decrying either the motives or the patriotism of any one of the several waterways associations. They represent the groundswell of popular interest and sympathy in a lately understood and newly appreciated policy of the government. They mean that the policy is ultimately to be adopted, and that it is to be comprehensive in scope. But, there is not going to be any measure passed which relies upon such backing as this for its immediate impulse. Such interest may well be the foundation of the movement, and it cannot be too enthusiastic or too broad. But what is needed in Congress is the maintenance in Washington of experts who have the data calling for government dollars at their finger tips; who can show Congress wherein return will follow expenditure; who can convert a hope and a vaguely expressed ambition into a terse and concrete business proposition.

Congress, as the trustees of the people's money, is more regardful of its trust than the criticisms and jokes about its extravagance would indicate. There is a reasonable difference between good natured expense for funeral junkets and the establishment of policies calling for their hundreds of millions in expenditure. Regardless of the volume and insistence of the "demand" Congress can and will be deaf to progressive waterways improvements until it is "shown." And it will be deaf because it knows that it can successfully defend itself before the people in the taking of such a stand.

Nevertheless it is meet that the people insist that their Representatives attend to their business by studying these propositions intelligently, and that they should give to the sections they represent the return of more enthusiasm for their business and material needs with less attention to the constant but petty sparing for political points. The country can and does in the main express itself satisfactorily on politics with little aid from the Congress; when it comes to the financing of a great and new policy, however, the member of Congress is the people's agent to do the work, and the people should hold him to the job.

AS TO OILED ROADS.

Here is the way Editor Wade Harris attempts to demolish a piece of local enterprise, while at the same time dashing the hopes and adding to the troubles of Deacon John D. Rockefeller:

"We see from The Wilmington Dispatch that the commissioners of New Hanover have bought 10,000 gallons of asphalt road oil at a cost of three cents a gallon and are going to experiment with it on the road from Wilmington to Delgado. That means the evaporation of $300 in good money. The oiled road is a delusion and a snare, its only effect being to make the atmosphere smelly and the dust heavy and sticky. Communities that try it once, never try it the second time."

It may appear, after all, that Mecklenburg did not grease its roads with the right kind of "fat".

THE TIGER HUNT.

The arrest of four additional persons on a charge of violation of the prohibition laws, together with the swearing out of additional warrants against some of those already arrested, indicates that the movement to stamp out the "blind tiger" in Wilmington is not subject to the limitation of the ten arrests made in the beginning of the campaign. Two detectives and ten cases did not, by many violators of the law, meet the situation. The disclosure that there were two additional detectives at work, and the probability that there are still others here, the results of whose efforts have not yet been made public, puts another light on a situation that many of those in sympathy with the violations of the law had been inclined to view as trivial.

It would be the part of wisdom for the "blind tiger" to quit his growling and take the medicine that will inevitably come to him with as pleasant a grin as the circumstances will warrant him in summoning to the aid of a necessary philosophy. Prohibition is the law. It is entitled to that recognition and support that is accorded all other laws upon the statute books. To permit this one law to meet at the hands of numerous violators with a flagrant abuse and contempt is to convict the people of a spirit of revolt against law enforcement that is a thousand times more serious than the violation of the law itself.

While we still see cause for regret that the enforcement of the law in this particular has been left to the initiative of private citizens, in the absence of effective work on the part of the officers of the law we consider that the city is to be congratulated that it had the men able and willing to meet a very real emergency.

A LITERARY REMINDER.

Barring Poe, possibly including Hawthorne, and passing on the way the star of Stephen Crane, scarcely topping the horizon, Walt Whitman has the lonely distinction of having been the one distinctive American man of letters. The long list has otherwise been composed of the clever students of classisists, who, on account of superior traditions and surroundings, were unable to teach to their imitators of a younger nation the spirit of their worth. Between the ambitious plagiarists and the amusing, but permanently ineffective, reflectors of manners in America, Whitman stands as the one man who had the message of himself to send to the world—a message inclusive of and typical of the people he personified. He was his own cult, his own type, his own organ. And, since he has passed, none else among the hundreds who have tried has been able to catch even the echo of the volume and thrill of his recitative.

From the Providence Journal we take the following, illustrative of the blindness and deafness that follow original lack of understanding:

"Walt Whitman's birthplace has been offered for sale, but no body of American admirers came forward to buy it. Here is a chance for the Englishmen, who seem to regard the author of "Leaves of Grass" more highly than we do, to make a graceful acknowledgment of the thousands of American dollars that have been spent in purchasing or 'restoring' places of note in England."

Why do Englishmen appreciate Whitman more than Americans seem to do, except that, out of centuries of experience, they have learned to distinguish between the voice finding music in its own expression and the pipings of those who, in the complexities of culture, have lost the sense of their own significance.

We have no brief for a Whitman "shrine". "Honest Walt" was of the big out-of-doors, without a touch of "nature twaddle" in his makeup, except as nature found expression in man. He could bed on the ground, and a home to him was the merest incident. But if the "Brook Farm" influence were wiped clean of the slate, there would still be left that which without him would not be—a literary confession of the American people.

ON GIVING MEDICINE.

Dost a memory yet linger of certain parental assurances preparatory of the conscientious administration of salutary compounds? Is there yet a vital recollection of the strategy of conciliation, followed by swift and determined infliction of that which sounded sweet and proved nauseous? Here is the way that the editor of Raeford Facts and Figures sugars the pill:

"We never mean to attack a man in our editorial squibs. When we sit down to write, we try to forget everybody, and attack wrong principles. When we think public funds are squandered, we have not in mind the amount some individual received, but think only of the useless expenditure of public moneys."

And here is the way with which, with a sure grab at the nose, he forces his patient to take its medicine:

"For the first time in the history of the county the Road Fund in Robeson county appears to be wisely appropriated. The good, dry weather is responsible for this."

As an effective home remedy, we commend the above as satisfying all the prerequisites from the point of the first symptom to the last reluctant but inevitable swallow.

Another reason why Mrs. Astor might have waited, is that she portraits will be in black.

Mrs. Ruth Bryan Leavitt is coining money on the lecture platform. Does the Sherman law apply to the Bryan family?

One of the ghosts likely to materialize is that of Andrew Jackson, when Senator Aldrich launches his bill for a central bank.

The striking difference between the intercollegiate football match and the college debate is that in the latter sort of contest it is the audience that is knocked out.

Gompers complains of Europe that he was able to find but few bath tubs. It looks as though we will be unable in this country to find the "immunity bath" popularized by Roosevelt.

Bryan's friends are adopting the slogan, "Less of Bryan". If the aforesaid friends of the Peerless One will enter into a pact to that effect, there will be a silence so moist it will drip gratitude.

While the Wilmington police were arresting the blind tigers, Raleigh thieves were making free of the Capital City's blind coppers by robbing the market house, in which they have headquarters.

If Col. Jno. Jacob Astor is really lost, Mrs. Astor will doubtless regret that she failed to get advance information from some well-equipped spiritualist, and be a real widow with dower rights instead of alimony.

President Taft desires waterway figures in place of waterway oratory. As it will take dollars to dig canalsa nd deepen channels, it is reasonable to demand that those interested should furnish the facts with which to dig the money out of Congress.

According to the theory of the telephone companies, that the ratio of operating expense to gross income increases with the expansion of the business, it will only be necessary for any company to bankrupt itself that it get sufficient subscribers.

Whatever the right or wrong of the sugar scandal in the New York Custom House, we see little except the ends of opera bouffe in the suggestion that Congress "investigate", the inquisitors necessarily to be named in controlling number by "Uncle Joe" Cannon. All the investigation needed may be better, more quickly and less expensively accomplished by a grand jury.

Father Tabb.

(Richmond Times Dispatch.)

There was a tinge of romance about Father Tabb. The reverent priest of St. Charles College, whose spiritual vision no blindness could dim, had been soldier, sailor, musician, philosopher, poet and Southern gentleman through all. Born under the spell of the old Virginia regime, he had been tutored in arms and tried in battle, and passed through the bitter trial of reconstruction and the woes of poverty, ere he retired to the peaceful shades of the old college. There, amid the gathering clouds of affliction, he found solace and peace in teaching boys and in writing those verses which give him his chief claim to posterity.

Father Tabb was not a great poet. What he wrote came from a heart that knew and felt the deeper things of life. But his verse never phrased the half of what he felt. The limitations of rhythm and the monotony of rhyme, to which he ever remained true, proved too great a burden. Only now and then, through a verse, or even a line, the deeper nature freed itself and found itself in words. Then the melody grew luminous with meaning deep and inspiring.

Perhaps Father Tabb—the lapidary among song-makers, somebody once called him—knew his limitations. Perhaps he was willing to heed Wordsworth's command—to shine in his place and be content. He found his themes in the birds, in the flowers, in the poetic of everyday life; and he clothed them with the imagery of a genial heart and a kindly spirit. He saw the spiritual in the natural, and naturally voiced the spiritual.

Interstate Commerce Commissioner Lane says the Hepburn rate law has not wiped out railroad rebating. Will or can the Commissioner mention one corporate evil which has been eradicated or even minimized as a result of the mass of so-called reformatory legislation forced through Congress during the administration of the great Trust-buster and octopus-chaser? The Greensboro News and the Wilmington Star are frankly enthusiastic at the prospect of hearing Col. Walter R. Henry when he comes from Charlotte with his new but already famous lecture on Oslerism. Their expectations will be outdone many times over. That lecture of Colonel Henry's is worth missing a meal for. The half hath not been told concerning it.—Charlotte Observer.

The superintendent of roads of Rockingham county some time ago had a flogging administered to a prisoner 50 years of age. Webster's Weekly calls him to task for it. The law does not countenance corporal punishment of prisoners, the Weekly points out. Generally speaking, there is more brutality in connection with the treatment of prisoners than many people suspect. Those guilty of it should be held strictly to account.—Charlotte Observer.

Some Maryland Democrats who did not go so far in opposing the disfranchisement amendment as to vote against it nevertheless rejoice at its defeat. They do not want Maryland made a one-party State even of their own party; they have tried both a one-party State and a two-party State, with the result that they prefer the latter enormously. There is unquestionably sound support for this view. Any State which does not have two strong, aggressive parties, each keeping the other straight, is very unfortunate. The trouble in most Southern States, however, arises from the nature of the second party and cannot be mended for a good while to come. —Charlotte Observer.

As evidence of the marvelous development of the cotton manufacturing industry in the South it is stated that for the past two years the mills of this section have consumed more cotton than those of the North. Some details comparative and others we find in the Brooklyn Standard Union are that 40 years ago the North worked up nine times as much cotton annually as the South, but the latter section has gained 3,100 per cent. in its factory output since then. During the time mentioned the North increased its output of manufactured cotton goods 222 per cent. As recently as nine years ago the North consumed almost twice as much raw cotton as the States which form the other section of the Nation. And still it is hardly an exaggeration to say that cotton manufacturing in the South is yet in its infancy.—Richmond News-Leader.

The editor was in Wilmington Taft Day. He arrived in the city about midnight the night before, and the train on which he went was crowded. We did not have to ramble around town hunting a place to lodge. Other train loads had preceded us and all the hotels were already filled up. But the entertainment committee met us and sent us with a guide to a home—a home. If a man tramped the streets of Wilmington he did it because he chose to do so in preference to being adopted into the home of some good family. Why, they acted just like they always knew us and were expecting us; just like parents and friends do when the boys and girls come home from school Christmas—except they didn't kiss anybody—that we saw. They made us feel like they were the gladdest in the world we came.—Raeford Facts and Figures.

In these busy times of ours it seems that a lot of promiscuous arrests are being made, which causes a person to lose a great deal of time from his work to say nothing of the stigma that is attached to being arrested. Acting upon the advice of a telegram received here Thursday, Mr. Ernest Jackson, a young man and employe of the Rocky Mount Mills, was taken in charge by the local police. The young man was locked up, and the authorities at Wallace were notified. No message was received from Wallace as to why the man should be held, and he himself could conceive of no idea why he should be thus held. Upon receiving no further message Mr. Jackson was released. His arrest caused him to lose considerable time from his work, as well as ceaseless worry all the while, all of which leads us to think that some restrictions should be put on the proper authorities as to making arrests.—Rocky Mount Record.

We hope the next time the New York World sends a correspondent to North Carolina they won't send a prevaricator. The one along with the Taft party at Wilmington last week sent to the World a regular yellow falsehood which in plain English is a lie. What he said was a fling at the President, a sort of slur, as the President smiled all the while with pleasure and admiration during his trip down the river. Then there was another slur at Mr. Sprunt. The biggest slur was at Wilmington when he tried to make believe that the people of Wilmington were dosing Mr. Taft in order to further Cape Fear river improvements. We love some liars but this felow in question tickles us half to death. The people of Wilmington are indignant over the lie and not only they but the people all over the State are and the World would think so if it would read the newspapers from different sections of North Carolina and other States even. Mr. Dunlap must have gotten hold of a bad brand and done his writing fiat on his back as he did not come out of the car during the time Mr. Taft was in Wilmington. If metropolitan journalism stands for such lies as this one in question published in the New York World, we say to hell with the whole push of 'em.—The Square Deal.

MORE TIGER CASES

Nineteen Additional Warrants Issued Yesterday Afternoon.

ARE FIVE NEW DEFENDANTS

Trials Will be Resumed Before the Recorder This Morning—Identity of Two More Detectives is Disclosed.

While the Recorder had a rest yesterday from the "blind tiger" cases it was not so with the police, who served 18 additional warrants late in the afternoon and last night. Fourteen were against some of those arrested last week and the other four were against persons not heretofore arrested. There is another warrant out, making a total of 19 sworn out yesterday, and may have been served during the night. The identity of two more detectives was discovered when the warants were served yesterday. They are A. C. Brown and B. H. Yuille and it is presumed that they are also members of the Norfolk, Va., agency.

Those arested yesterday afternoon were: Jack Newman, near beer saloon on Market street, the old "Globe" saloon stand, charged with selling half pint of rye whiskey to A. C. Brown on November 15th; also charged with the same offense in another warrant. He gave $200 bond with Mr. M. L. Starkey as surety. Chas. Pridgen, who worked at Robt. Daniels' store, corner Fourth and Church streets, alleged sale to A. C. Brown on November 13th; arrested last night by Patrolman W. G. Brinkley, bond in sum of $200 with Mr. John Capps as surety. Joe Starkey, who works in a place on Princess, between Front and Second streets; alleged sale to C. E. Everett on November 13th; arrested by Patrolman M. C. Huggins, $200 bond with Mr. M. L. Starkey as surety; Jim Walton, also an employe of Robt. Daniels, corner Fourth and Church streets, alleged sale to B. H. Yuille on November 13th; arrested by Patrolman W. R. Applebury, $200 check for bond. There are four additional cases against Dan Ruark alleging sale to C. E. Everett on the following dates: October 29th and 30th and November 3rd and 4th. He was arrested by Patrolman C. A. Bradshaw and gave $400 bond with Woodus Kellum, Esq., his counsel, as surety. Jack Wynne is indicted in three other cases, alleging sales to C. E. Everett on November 10th and 12th and to B. H. Yuille on November 12th. He was arrested by Chief of Police N. J. Williams and gave bond with Mr. M. L. Starkey as surety. Two aditional cases against Herbert Steijes, allege sales to C. E. Everett on November 5th and 8th; arested by Patrolman H. P. Merritt and gave $200 bond with A. J. Marshall, Esq., his counsel, as surety. Melvin Horne is charged with three additional sales to C. E. Everitt on the following dates: October 26th and 30th and November 6th. He gave bond with Mr. John W. Gafford as surety. Julius Murray, the colored barber, was arested last night by Sergeant E. J. Grimsley. In this warrant Murray is charged with sale to B. H. Yuille on the 12th of November. He gave bond with Mr. Hugh MacRae as surety.

The defendants are to appear before the Recorder at 11 o'clock this morning when the investigation of the other cases wil be resumed. If all of the cases are tried it is quite likely that the Recorder will be busy with "blind tiger" cases for many days to come. Judging by the progress made last week the present cases will be sufficient to occupy the time of the court for a week or two. The arrests yesterday afternoon and last night did not create much of a sensation because it was generally expected that other arrests would follow those of last week.

It will be recalled that Walter P. Gafford, Esq., stated to the court last week as one of his reasons for desiring a continuance of the cases that he had been informed that the character of the detectives was bad and he wanted time to make an investigation. While the request for continuance was desired, yet counsel for the defendants finally succeeding in getting a delay of several days and from the rumors on the streets yesterday they set about at once to unearth something against the Norfolk men. It was stated upon pretty good authority that Mr. Gafford and Constable W. B. Savage left here Saturday night for Norfolk to look into the records of Everett and Joyner. They are expected to return to the city this morning.

THANKSGIVING GAME.

Wilmington High School to Play Donaldson in Fayetteville.

The following from yesterday afternoon's Fayetteville Observer will be read with much local interest:

"By far the most important local football contest of the season will be played here on Thanksgiving day between Donaldson Military School and Wilmington. Both teams are in excellent condition and the game is certain to be close and exciting. The Wilmington team has recently defeated Goldsboro and Kinston, and last year won their contest with the cadets. The D. M. S. team ,however, is confident of evening up this year. Doubtless the largest crowd of the season will be on hand to witness the contest.

"Prof. McFall and his players are hard at work this afternoon, practicing signals, formations, etc. The cadets have improved very much since they defeated the Presbyterian High School of Florence 16 to 0 and they believe they have the best preparatory school team in the State."

Thanksgiving Donations.

The ladies of the First Presbyterian church will be pleased to receive donations to distribute among the poor on Thanksgiving Day, and for this purpose, a number of ladies of the church will assemble in the parlor this afternoon. Contributions of any kind to fill the basket will be received with great pleasure from 10 A. M. to 5 P. M.

REV. GEO. S. BEARDEN RESIGNS

Gives Up Pastorate of St. Matthew's English Lutheran Church on Account of Health of Family. Much Regret Felt.

With much surprise and a sense of deep regret, the congregation of St. Matthew's English Lutheran church, on North Fourth street, on Sunday morning received the resignation of its beloved pastor, Rev. Geo. S. Bearden, who announced with much feeling that on account of the health of his wife and daughter, both of whom have felt for some time the need of a higher climate, he would reluctantly tender to the church his resignation to become effective at once.

While the resignation itself came as a surprise, it had been known for some time that the health of Mrs. Bearden, who has a bronchial affection, and that of her daughter, must sooner or later induce Mr. Bearden to take up his residence elsewhere, but the hope had been cherished that the health of both would sufficiently improve as to justify the pastor in continuing his work here. However, Mr. Bearden saw it in the line of his duty to remove with his family to a higher climate and after the regular service on Sunday, he called the church council together and after explaining the situation handed in his unconditional resignation, which was accepted with the greatest regret and expressions of the highest confidence and esteem. Mr. Bearden and family expect to leave the city on Wednesday though Mr Bearden has not yet decided just where he will locate. It is understood that he has recently received two very inviting calls and that he may accept either of them a little later. Rev. Mr. Bearden came to Wilmington from Winston-Salem two years ago and the work here has greatly prospered and been blessed under his ministry. The Sunday School has been doubled with a consequent doubling of the Sunday School room capacity, the membership has been built up and along all lines the work has gone forward steadily. At one of the services Sunday an infant was baptized and an adult was confirmed. His first sermon to his Wilmington congregation was "The Seed the Word of God" and quite appropriately on Sunday his last sermon to his people with whom he has labored successfully was a sequel to his first sermon, "Sowing the Seed".

Not only is the departure of Rev. Mr. Bearden regretted by his own congregation. but by the great Christian body of the entire city. He has ever been active in all good works in the community and his presence here has been a great influence for good. None the less surprising and regretful to the entire people of Wilmington will be the news of his intended departure.

THE RECORDER'S COURT.

Several Cases Heard Yesterday Morning—Continuances Granted.

In the Recorder's court yesterday morning Becky Moore, colored, was found not guilty of the charge of stealing $20 belonging to Sumner Wilson, colored. The case went up from Justice George Harriss' court. The trial of the case consumed an hour and a half of the time of the court. Brooke G. Empie, Esq., represented the defendant and C. D. Weeks, Esq., appeared for the prosecution.

Mr. D. N. Stanley, who conducts a store on corner of Second and Market streets, was found not guilty of the charge of obstructing the sidewalk in front of his place of business with boxes and crates. Henry Purdy, colored, was tried on the charge of stealing a bicycle from Mr. E. R. Pickard and found guilty. He was represented by L. Clayton Grant, Esq. A case against Howard Watters, colored, for the same offense, was continued until Friday. He is represented by Geo. L. Peschau, Esq. M. G. Silvia, a white man, was fined $10 and taxed with the costs for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. He owes a back fine and costs and was ordered kept in custody until he pays the amount in both cases.

The case against Chas. Richter, charged with selling intoxicants to C. G. Winn, Jr., was called, but as the prosecuting witness, C. G. Winn, Sr., was not present, it was continued until today. In Sunday's paper it was stated, upon information given the reporter by the police, that C. G. Winn, Jr., a youth of 17 years, was arrested Friday night on the charge of drunkenness. This was a mistake. The police blotter shows that disorderly conduct was the charge against the young man, and the disorderly conduct, it is said, consisted of loud talking on the streets.

TOKENS OF LOVE AND ESTEEM.

Gifts Presented to Rev. and Mrs. W. L. Rexford Last Night.

Rev. W. L. Rexford, for four years the popular pastor of Trinity Methodist church, leaves this morning, accompanied by Mrs. Rexford, for Raleigh to attend the annual session of the North Carolina Conference of M. E. Church, South. He will not be returned to Trinity Church, as he has served the time limit. Last night a number of friends, members of the congregation and others, gathered at the parsonage to pay their respects to Mr. and Mrs. Rexford on the eve of their departure. As a token of their love and esteem for the pastor and his wife they presented to each a handsome umbrella. The speech of presentation was feelingly made by Mr. J. W. Smith and was accepted in like spirit by Mr. Rexford. A number of other gifts were presented to Mrs. Rexford. The church has paid the pastor's salary in full and considerably over, and has paid all conference assessments and some over on missions. Mr. Rexford leaves his church in a most flourishing condition.

MUCH DAMAGE BY FOREST FIRE

Swept Over at Least 5,000 Acres in Vicinity of Greenville Station Sunday and Yesterday. Raged All Day Sunday and Yesterday.

For the first time in four or five years a forest fire raged in the vicinity of Greenville Station Sunday and yesterday, sweeping over at least 5,000 acres of land and doing great damage to growing timber, besides destroying some 45 cords of wood which had been cut. Owing to the dry weather which has prevailed for the past several weeks and the high wind the fire spread rapidly and the efforts of the fighters were to little avail.

The fire started near the turnpike, it is stated, and swept over lands belonging to A. J. Marshall, Esq., Messrs. D. L. Gore, G. R. French & Sons, E. J. W. Anders, John D. Woody, Sheriff S. P. Cowan, Mrs. C. C. Williamson, Mr. T. F. Bagley, Rev. J. S. Crowley, the Winter Park Gardens Company, and probably others.

Owing to the fact that there had been no rain in several weeks there was only one stream running through the lands from which any water could be secured, hence the fire-fighters were put to considerable disadvantage, their only weapons being brushes, which they used throughout Sunday and again yesterday.

Sunday night it was thought that the fire was under pretty good control, but it broke out afresh yesterday morning. Mr. Marshall had about 30 cords of wood on his 500 or 600 acre tract of land and when he learned of the fire in that vicinity he started several teams yesterday morning to haul the wood to the city. He went to his plantation in person and was surprised to find that the fire had broken out afresh and was raging over his place. "Blind tiger" cases and other cases which he had on his mind were forgotten for the time being. He pulled off his coat, secured a brush and fought the fire for several hours. Fifteen cords of the wood were destroyed. Mr. George H. Rogers had about 100 cords cut and 50 were destroyed by the fire. Late in the afternoon the fire was under control in that immediate section, but was still raging at Winter Park Gardens. Last night forest fires were sweeping over a large area of land near Wrightsboro, also in this county.

Persons coming to the city yesterday from up the Seaboard road reported that forest fires had swept the woods on either side of the Carolina Central track as far up as Allenton, during the past few days.

The city was flooded with burnt oak leaves Sunday, blowing here from the west. It was thought that the rice been less rainfall in this section this no confirmation of the report was received yesterday. It is probable that the leaves came from the fire raging near Greenville Station.

The rain last night was welcomed throughout this section. There has been less rainfall in this section his Fall than for many years and a rain was badly needed. The well diggers have had all the work they could do for the past two or three weeks. A great many wells in various parts of the city had to be made four or five feet deeper in order to get water, while practically all of the small streams in this section have dried up.

An unusual accident incident to the fire on Greenville Sound was the partial wreck of Mr. Pembroke Jones' automobile on the turnpike Sunday night. The fire had burned a tree down across the road and into this the machine dashed. The occupants were badly shaken up but it is stated no one was seriously hurt.

TO COMMAND SEMINOLE.

Capt. R. O. Crisp Comes Here From Pamlico Cutter—Lieut. Whittier.

With the approach of the Winter cruising season a number of changes will take place in the corps of officers of the Seminole, pursuant to orders from the Department, namely a new commanding and executive officers, the former being Capt. R. O. Crisp, who will assume command this week.

Capt. Crisp for a number of years has been attached to the revenue cutter Pamlico stationed at Newbern. Prior to assuming command of the Pamlico he was on the smaller cutter and when the new cutter was placed in the service at that place he was recommended to take charge of her. He is generally popular and will be greeted with much pleasure at this port. He is expected to arrive Wednesday. Lieut. Cobell, who has been attached to the Seminole as executive officer is also expected to arrive this week from Washington, where he has ben on duty in the Department, Revenue Cutter Service.

Capt. Crisp will be succeeded on the Pamlico by Capt. Dunwoody, as commanding officer, the latter coming from the revenue cutter Yamacraw, which has been recently cruising in West Indian waters in search of the steam yacht Nourmahal, with Col. John Jacob Astor and party aboard.

With the changes on the cutter Lieut Whittier, who has been serving as executive officer and the majority of the time in command, has been ordered to the Pamlico as executive officer. Lieut. Whittier is a popular and efficient officer, who is generally liked by the officers and crew of the Seminole and numbers of friends in the city, who will regret to see him leave the cutter here. His services on the Seminole is an evidence of his ability as a commanding officer.

The cutter has been placed in readiness for the cruising season, which begins the first of December and lasts until April.

NEGRO WOMEN SERIOUSLY CUT.

Free-For-All Fight at Negro Gathering in Brooklyn Last Night.

During a free-for-all fight at a negro gathering near the corner of Eighth and Nixon streets last night, "Mamie" Brockman and Charlotte Brown were seriously cut. The latter is in the James Walker Memorial Hospital, where her condition is said to be serious. The Brockman woman was hurried away shortly after the fight and the officers had been unable to find her up to midnight.

Patrolman J. S. Lane and B. W. Jacobs were upon the scene shortly after the trouble began. They called for the ambulance in which to send the Brockman woman to the hospital and the patrol wagon for Charlotte Brown. While awaiting the arrival of the ambulance friends of the Brockman woman spirited her away. Charlotte Brown was taken to police headquarters. She had an ugly wound in her back and Assistant Chief Burnett sent her to the hospital.

The Brown woman stated to officers that she was cut by "Mamie" Brockman and that a negro man, name not given, cut the Brockman woman. Full particulars of the affair had not been received at police headquarters at midnight.

Shortly after midnight Brockman woman was arrested by Patrolman J. S. Lane and taken to police headquarters where she is detained. She had been attended by a physician who dressed her wound, which are about the head.

The Theatre

Tonight, the Academy will offer what can be placed in the positive column as one of the most brilliant theatre events to which Wilmington has ever fallen heir. It will be a Broadway star, Mr. Richard Carle, in a Broadway production, "Mary's Lamb." This combination cannot be improved upon even by "little old New York" and it is seldom that a city of North Carolina gets the distinction of having such an attraction. Not since the appearance of Frank Daniels here years ago has Wilmington ever had a Broadway musical comedy star and since then, too, the only other New York star to grace the local playhouse was James K. Hackett. So the event tonight is an important one and, judging by the big sale of seats, Wilmington theatre-goers fully appreciate this fact. The sale started yesterday at the Palace.

"Mary's Lamb" is a sparkling musical comedy and will be presented by a large company of comedians and girls. The stage settings are superb and so one of the best performances Wilmington has ever had may be expected. The company will arrive early this afternoon from Charlotte, which will give ample time for the massive stage settings to be placed in position, as there are several cars of scenery and electrical effects.

"Mary's Lamb" has been a success in three countries. Originally in Paris it was played under the title of "Madame Mongodin." In London it ran for several seasons as "Mrs. Donderbury's Past." When Mr. Carle adapted the farce and made it into a musical comedy he re-christened it "Mary's Lamb," the hero being Leander Lamb, the hen pecked husband of Mary Miranda Lamb, whence he is Mary's "Lamb". In Americanizing the farce, Mr. Carle has added many lines and jokes of his own, as well as thirteen musical numbers, all of which he composed.

Big Thanksgiving Attraction.

Few musical plays can equal the record of B. C. Whitney's "A Knight for a Day," which comes to the Academy for two performances Thursday, Thanksgiving Day. It was originally produced at Mr. Whitney's own playhouse in Chicago, where it ran for 607 consecutive performances and establishing a record in the western metropolis that has never been approached by any other attraction. It then came to New York and at Wallack's theatre it ran for six months, winning friends in the Eastern metropolis in spite of the feeling against Chicago successes. From there it went to Boston, where it delighted the theatregoers of the Hub City for three months. A successful tour of the larger cities followed and it bids fair to repeat its last three seasons' achievements this season.

The sale of seats will commence at Palace tomorrow morning.

Popular Actor for Saturday.

Mr. Paul Gilmore will be seen with his company at the Academy matinee and night Saturday in his annual offering, his present vehicle being the new comedy drama of the northern Canadian frontier, "The Call of the North" written by George Broadhurst, author of "The Man of the Hour," and taken from Stewart Edward White's novel, "Conjuror's House"; a play in which Mr. Gilmore is said to have surpassed all of his former hits. Newspapers elsewhere have described this as a stirring, romantic and intensely interesting drama in which Mr. Gilmore has a thoroughly appropriate role, produced with elaborate scenery, costumes and effects on a par with his former excellent presentations.

Seats will go on sale Friday morning.

Big Bill at the Palace.

To large audiences the Crystal Palace opened another big bill yesterday, and the new offering sparkles with comedy and is bright with novelty. Each of the present features is a big one and received flattering approval from the audiences. One of the topliners is Mademoiselle Red Head, the dainty little comedienne who has created quite a sensation in vaudeville this season and her clever act must be seen to be appreciated. Another big one is Lew Hoffman, comedy juggler, and he introduces some of the most difficult of feats, in the juggling line, but keeps them from being at all dry by serving them up in snappy, laughable manner. Then there is the well known comedy sketch team of Sutton and Caprice, who are presenting bushels of wholesome laughs. The Palace has just secured the services of a new musical director in Miss Emma Austin, an accomplished young musician and one who stands in the front ranks of the profession. She is also a singer of note and today will contribute to the pleasures of the bill with several splendid vocal selections.

At the Bijou Today.

"The Diver's Remorse," and "The Tower of Nelse" are the titles of the feature pictures that will be shown at the Bijou theatre today. The first named is an unusually realistic subject, for the production of which a corps of deep sea divers was employed. With the exception of the scenes at the bottom of the sea, the pictures are all natural poses made from a wrecking tug with a submarine boat showing above the surface in some of the views. The picture is unusual from many points of view. The second is a historical drama adapted from Alexander Dumas' famous novel of the same title, and the events which form the thread of the story took place during the latter part of the Reign of Philippe Le Bel, and the first part of the reign of his eldest son, Louis X., Kings of France.

TEMPORARY RECEIVER NAMED.

Insolvency of Wilmington Sash, Door & Lumber Co. Alleged.

Upon the petition of Mr. H. A. DeCover, in behalf of himself and other stockholders and creditors, Judge Oliver H. Allen, in chambers, at Kinston, yesterday morning, appointed C. C. Loughlin, Esq., of this city, temporary receiver of the Wilmington Sash, Door & Lumber Company. The receiver is required to give bond in the sum of $2,000. The defendant company is ordered to appear before Judge Allen in this city December 6th at 12 o'clock to show cause, if any, why the receivership should not be made permanent. Mr. DeCover in his petition states that he is the principal stockholder of the concern, which he alleges is insolvent. He alleges that the corporation, which has a capital stock of $8,000, is indebted to various creditors to an amount exceeding $3,000 and has assets and property not exceeding in saleable cash value $1,500. The petitioner was represented by Woodus Kellum, Esq.

NEW VENDING DEVICE.

Durham Company Placing Interesting Machine on Market Here.

In the city is Mr. D. R. Burch, president of the Dixie Automatic Vending Company, of Durham, N. C., who is introducing a novel device for vending cigars and with which he has met with much success. The invention is a very recent one and a number of them have been placed with leading dealers throughout the city. It is a glass case with a mechanism on the interior that feeds the cigar to the purchaser one at a time upon the dropping of a nickle in the slot. Inside the case a moistener keeps the cigar mild and a humidor case retains the aroma. The company is a North Carolina enterprise and its stockholders are among the leading men of the State, several of whom are in Wilmington and have been interested upon the occasion of Mr. Burch's present visit.

SEASON'S BEST CATCHES.

Mullets and Trout in Abundance on Market For Several Days.

Fishermen from various sounds in the vicinity of Wilmington have been bringing in an abundance of mullets and trout during the past few days and it is believed the catches have been the best during the present season. It is estimated that 1,000 bunches were sold on the local market yesterday.

Since the appearance of trout in the sounds during the past week the fishermen have had unusually good luck. Carts from all the sounds rolled in yesterday and in the afternoon there was a lively scene around Front street market.

On His Way to Conference.

Rev. T. C. Ellers, pastor of Shallotte circuit of Methodist churches in Brunswick county, arrived in the city yesterday on his way to the annual sessions of Conference in Raleigh this week. Rev. Mr. Ellers is a Wilmington boy who has succeeded well in the ministry and carries up to Conference a fine report of his year's work.

Men's Meeting Well Attended.

The men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock was well attended and Rev. T. A. Smoot, pastor of Grace Methodist Church, was heard with much pleasure and interest. It was one of the most successful men's meetings of the Fall season, under the auspices of the Association. Miss Carrie White sang a solo before the address.

A COMMON ERROR.

The Same Mistake is Made by Many Wilmington People.

It's a common error
To plaster the aching back,
To rub with liniments rheumatic joints,
When the trouble comes from the kidneys.
Doan's Kidney Pills cure all kidney ills,
And are endorsed by Wilmington citizens.

A. M. Wilson, 402 S. Fifth St., Wilmington, N. C., says: "I am a strong and willing endorser of Doan's Kidney Pills and will always uphold the claims made for them. I believe Doan's Kidney Pills to be the best remedy to be had for kidney trouble. My back was very weak and lame and though I wore plasters and used liniments I did not get any relief. The kidney secretions were also so frequent in passage that I had to get up several times at night and contained a heavy sediment. I heard so much about Doan's Kidney Pills that I decided to try them and procured a box at Robert R. Bellamy's drug store. They cured me after other remedies had failed and it can be plainly seen why I am so willing to recommend them."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

KILLED BY ENGINE

Body of Colored Man Mutilated—Fire at Goldsboro Yesterday.

Goldsboro, N. C., Nov. 22.—Early this morning John L. Satterwhite, colored, was instantly killed by a Norfolk and Southern shifting engine, his body being terribly mangled. The evidence before a coroner's jury shows that the deceased came to his death through his own negligence and the followng verdict was rendered: "After examination of a number of witnesses we find that the deceased, John L. Satterwhite, came to his death this day by being run over by a shifting engine and cars on the Norfolk and Southern Railroad in the city of Goldsboro in a manner unknown to the jury. There does not appear from the evidence that any blame attaches to the shifting crew in regard to negligence."

Two early morning fires destroyed the woodwork on one of the Norfolk and Southern passenger engines and the stables of Mr. W. H. Barnes, two horses being badly burned and at this writing, it is thought they will have to be killed, which will be a heavy loss to the owner as they are two of the finest horses in the city.

THE WESTERN CONFERENCE.

Adjourned at Hickory Last Night With Reading of Appointments.

Hickory, N. C., Nov. 22.—After three busy sessions the Western North Carolina Conference adjourned this evening with the reading of the appointments. The morning session was occupied almost entirely with the call of the 20th question and the reports of the pastors. Bishop Atkins in this connection emphasized the importance of infant baptism and urged the preachers to see to it as far as possible that all children under their care receive the rite of baptism.

A resolution was offered recommending that the Conference memorialize the General Conference to change the name of the church from M. E. Church, South, to Episcopal was adopted eliminating the recommendations as to the name desired.

J. H. Weaver held that if the word South should be omitted from the name the M. E. Church would claim that the Southern Church had become ashamed of the name it had borne since 1844 and would come down and swallow up the church. The afternoon session was taken up largely with the reading of the reports of conference boards and committees.

The conference voted to lend the Advocate Publishing Company $3,000 to meet a present need and under the condition that the company pay the Conference 6 per cent. interest on the loan and on the $11,000 stock the Conference already has in the company.

The North Carolina Christian Advocate was highly recommended.

The committee of trial in the case of Rev. C. F. Sherrill reported that the committee found the first and third specifications in the charge sustained and the second specification not sustained. The committee restated that the committee found the accused guilty of imprudence and not of immorality and recommended that he be suspended from the ministry for a period of 30 days. Notice was given of appeal to the General Conference but later the appeal was withdrawn. The Conference brotherhood was re-organized at the night session with more than 100 members. Then the remaining minutes of business was completed and Bishop Atkins made some prefatory remarks after which he read the appointments. Some of the more important are: Central Church, Asheville, G. H. Detwiler; Tryon Street, Charlotte, G. T. Rowe; Trinity, Charlotte, E. L. Bain; West Market, Greensboro, E. K. McLarty; Centenary, Winston-Salem, J. E. Aber-Statesville, Harold Turner; Asheville District, D. Atkins; Charlotte District, H. A. Boyer; Franklin District, J. E. Gay; Greensboro District, W. R. Ware; Morganton District, R. M. Hoyle; Mt. Airy District, R. M. Taylor; Salisbury District, J. C. Rowe; Shelby District, J. R. Scroggs; Statesville District, J. N. Huggins; Waynesville District, W. H. Willie; Winston District, T. F. Marr.

LEE BATTLE ON TRIAL.

Charged With Irregularities While Cashier of Greensboro Bank.

Greensboro, N. C., Nov. 22.—The trial of Lee H. Battle, charged with irregularities while cashier of the defunct City National Bank, of this city, was brought up in the Federal court here today. There were no suggestions of a continuance from either side, the jury being selected in 15 minutes. On eight counts for false entries the largest is on the sworn report of January, 1907, where under the head of "loans exceeding the limit" the report says "none" while the allegation in the bill of indictment is that the bank had a loan to the Pomona Cotton Manufacturing Company, of which Mr. Battle was president, amounting to $140,000.

Fred A. Hull, National bank examiner, will be the first witness for the Government tomorrow. The case probably will consume the entire week.

STABS WIFE ON STREET.

Spencer Negro Thrust Knife Into Her Heart—Escapes.

Spencer, N. C., Nov. 22.—John Poe, colored, killed his wife on the street here today by stabbing her through the heart. They were both on their way to work when a quarrel arose over the relations of the woman and another man. Poe made good his escape.

THE COTTON MARKET.

New York, Nov. 22.—The report of the census bureau proving about as generally expected had little effect on speculative sentiment and the cotton market today was more or less irregular with trading quiet on the average. The general tendency, however, was firmer as the census figues were considered encouraging rather than otherwise from a bullish standpoint and the close was firm at a net advance of 9 to 20 points.

The market opened barely steady at an advance of 4 points on December but generally 5 to 8 points lower in response to disappointing cables.

Following the call a scattering demand from outside sources and covering by some recent sellers, sent prices up to a net advance of 7 to 12 points. offerings increased on the bulge and there was considerable Wall street selling attributed to weakness in the stock market, under which the market eased back to within 3 or 4 points of last night's finals but there was a good demand on a scale down and after midday the market became generally firmer with the highest prices reached in the late trading when January sold at 14.74 and May sold at 14.15. This advance had the encouragement of bullish accounts from Southern spot markets and reports that another 10,000 bales were soon to be cleared from the local stocks. The close was within a point or two of the best. Soutnern spot markets officially reported were unchanged to 1-16c higher.

Receipts at the ports today were 32,842 against 45,322 last week and 63,851 last year. For the week 225,000 bales against 277,640 last week and 440,447 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 6,412 bales against 11,015 last year.

Spot closed quiet 15 points advance; middling uplands 14.85; middling gulf 15.10; sales none.

Futures opened barely steady and closed firm.

DICK BROS' COTTON LETTER.

New York, Nov. 22.—The census report on the amount of cotton ginned to November 14th, was issued at the opening this morning and showed 8,109,000 bales. Expectations were for a total slightly under 8,100,000 bales and consequently, there was a brief flurry of selling. The market rallied sharply, however, as a good many had been waiting to buy. Leading bulls have very little support and seemed inclined to let the market take care of itself. There were some signs of accumulation of cotton by strong interests, and there was more evidence of trade buying than has been seen for some time. Trade news shows very little change, but the advices regarding the progress of ginning the percentage of the cotton picked and crop statistics in general show up very bullishly. Shippers complain of increasing difficulty in getting cotton on account of the defaulting by those who had contracted to sell cotton. The market shows signs of working into higher levels.

DICK BROS. & CO.

THE DRY GOODS MARKET.

New York, Nov. 22.—Amoskeag tickings were advanced one cent a yard during the day and are again at value. Reports from dry goods roadmen tell of an active trade in the west and south. The jobbing and retail trades keep up well here but the primary markets are quiet. Jobbers are re-ordering dress goods for March delivery.

STOCK MARKET.

New York, Nov. 22.—The financial community was as little prepared today to make its final appraisement of the import to corporations of the judicial decision against the Standard Oil Company as it was in the short stock market session of Saturday after the unexpected announcement of the decision. The disturbed tone of the market and the marked lapse into dullness when measures of support became effective were sufficiently significant of the importance attached to the decision and the wish to await the final disposition of the case before going to reward. It is in the uncertainty thus involved that the principal harm is feared not only for the speculative position in stocks but for business activity.

The long line of precedents touching the interpretation of various issues growing out of the inter-State commerce and the anti-trust laws was cited to justify a confidence that a way would be found for the great corporations to continue to do business. The active discussion of the situation which has been going on constantly ever since the news of the decision was received seems to be bringing in the view that the drastic and sweeping consequences of the law as interpreted will serve to demonstrate its absurdity and bring about its modification or repeal.

The first hour of today's stock market saw a contest strenuously waged between the conflicting elements in the speculation in which the balance was fairly turned in favor of the reactionists. The buying having achieved its purpose of checking the decline, diminished.

Bonds were easy. Total sales, par value, were $3,262,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales of stocks today were 1,300,500 shares.

LONG TRIP IN LAUNCH.

From Atlantic City to Miami, Fla.—In Port at Beaufort.

Beaufort, N. C., Nov. 22.—Through heavy seas and facing a rising storm, Capt. Charles A. Santos put in here today in a 22 foot power boat with a cargo of fish. He started from Atlantic City, N. J., and purposes going South along the outer course to Miami, Fla. He has as his mate Theodore Riley, and they propose to make not only the expenses of their trip but a handsome profit as well out of their catches.

As all the fishing vessels came in today loaded to the gunwalls with moss bunkers, it is not improbable that they will accomplish their financial ends. The frail vessel will sail tomorrow according to Capt. Santos, although a nor'wester is reported to be approaching.

EQUIPMENT FOR C. & O.

Trust Agreement for Rolling Stock to Cost $2,170,000.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 22.—An equipment trust agreement to insure payment on rolling stock valued at $2,170,000 between the Mercantile Trust Company, of New York, and the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway was recorded in the clerk's office of the Chancery court here today.

The rolling stock consists of 1,000 center-dumping hopper cars, 400 double hopper steel cars and 1,00 all steel hopper cars.

CURES PIMPLES EASY.

Simple Remedy That Clears Skin Quickly of All Eruptions.

For several weeks past J. Hicks Bunting Co. have done the biggest business it ever had in any one article in selling Hokara, the skin food that has won so many friends in Wilmington.

It has been found to be an absolute cure not only for all minor skin troubles, such as pimples, blackheads, herpes, ache, scaly scalp, complexion blemishes, itching feet, piles, etc., but for the worst sores, ulcers, or even chronic eczema and salt rheum. There has yet to be found any form of wound on disease affecting the skin or mucous membrane that Hokara does not heal, and its action is so instantaneous that those who try it are simply delighted with it right from the start.

In spite of its unusual curative powers, the price is trifling. To convince every one of its merits, they will sell a liberal-sized jar for 25 cents. And remember that if you do not think it does what it claims, you get your money back. You certainly can afford to try it on this plan.

If the skin trouble is caused by impure blood or if the bowels are inactive, use Hokara Blood Tablets. They cool and cleanse the blood and regulate the bowels in a natural way.

ALL SIGNS OF LIFE

over the body of the man in the car. The work of hoisting the other victims to the surface did not cease. As the first load of three stretchers, their burdens and their carriers reached the top, the crowd surged back to the car a few yards away. Scores bent over the body, but even the unpracticed glance of those not of the medical profession saw at once that there was no mistake as to the death of those on the stretchers.

The work of taking out the bodies csontinued until 22 had been carried from the shaft to the temporary morgue. Before the last of those taken from the mine had been placed in the morgue the body of the unknown man had been removed from the hospital car to the place alongside those of his former comrades.

The rescuers who carried up the 23 bodies said there was evidence that the men had walled themselves in for several days, but had emerged to seek food or water and had met death in the black damp.

At a point beyond where the searchers had gone several declared they could see the shattered blocking of a pocket where the men had taken refuge. The bodies are scattered along the gallery for many yards and the men who found them believed the victims collapsed from weakness or asphyxiation before going 80 yards toward the entrance. Some of the bodies were burned and it is probable that of the 23 not all had been inmates of the pockets. The existence of the refuge was denied by other members of the party who asserted that they had seen no evidence of it.

Third Vein Opened.

An opening to the third vein, or lowest level of the St. Paul mine was forced late tonight, and the removal of the bodies or the rescue of living men imprisoned in the level may begin before day break, it is said.

Tests showed the presence of air in the lower vein. Thousands of the gallons of water have been poured in the shaft to extinguish the fire in higher levels. With air and water available hope for the rescue of any who may be in the bottom of the mine is strong and extraordinary efforts to reach the gallery are being made. The openng that has been cleared is a continuation of the main shaft.

Gruesome tokens of the futile fight for life made by the men whose bodies were taken out of the mine today were found near the bodies.

On the walls of the shaft had been fashoned rude wooden wheels, shaped in the fashion of ventilating fans.

Boards torn from the timbering of the mine had been crudely nailed or tied as vanes about the handles of the miners' picks to form a wheel. Whose wheels the men had apparently turned by hand to draw air to them. Close to the fans the largest groups of the dead were found.

TY COBB IS FINED

Required to Pay $100 and Costs For Assaulting Hotel Watchman.

Cleveland, Nov. 22.—Ty Cobb, outfielder on the Detroit Baseball Club, today was fined $100 and costs for assaulting George Stanford, a night watchman in a hotel the occasion of the Detroit team's last visit to Cleveland.

When the fine was announced by Judge Vickery, Cobb said he did not have that much money and the execution of judgment was continued to give the ball player to opportunity to obtain funds.

Cobb was indicted on the charge of cutting with intent to wound following a fight with Stanfield in which the watchman was stabbed, but in criminal court today was allowed to plead guilty to assault and batter. This did away with the necessity of a trial.

NEGRO CUT IN HEAD

Strolling Through Maiden Lane Was Assaulted by Negro With Chisel.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Fayetteville, N. C., Nov. 22.—While strolling through Maiden Lane in company with a dusky damsel late Saturday night, George Richardson, colored, was attacked by an unknown negro and was severely cut with some weapon, the wound from which resembled that of a chisel. The assailant escaped and has not been apprehended. The negro was stretched out and the coroner was notified on the presumption that he was dead, but this proved incorrect, as the negro rose up and walked off as that official and Chief Monaghan came up and a great crowd had collected to "view the remains."

DESTRUCTIVE TORNADO.

Fifteen Houses and Fair Buildings Wrecked at Dexter, Mo.

Dexter, Mo., Nov. 22.—A tornado struck Dexter today and demolished 15 houses and wrecked the Stoddard county fair buildings, including the amphitheatre. Two women and two children were injured. The wind cut a path 300 feet wide through the town. All buildings in the path of the storm were demolished.

She Can Eat Pie Now.

A lady recently visited a friend in Keene, N. H., whose husband was very delicate, and yet she noticed that he could eat all the pie he wanted. She began to wonder how it was that he could do it, when she had to give up this delicacy because of disagreeable after effects. She writes as follows:

"I found it was because the pies were made with Cottolene; and as I am a great lover of pie, I began using Cottolene, and have never had a bit of lard in the house since that time. I now enjoy my pie, as it does not give heart-burn as formerly."

Cottolene makes crisp, flaky, "digestible" pie-crust, that tastes good, and does good—lard does you harm.

THANKSGIVING APPEAL.

The Associated Charities needs money for part of its November and October bills and will need more for its December and January, especially for the cost of wood. I ask that this Thanksgiving week our friends, who are many and kind will send liberal contributions to our treasurer, Mr. J. H. Boatwright.

Yours for the needy,
A. D. McCLURE, President.

KILLS BOY WITH ROCK

Negro Girl in Jail at Albany Charged With the Crime.

Albany, Ga., Nov. 22.—Charged with the murder of Frank Hill, 10 years old negro boy, whom she killed with a rock, Lula May Sheppard, a negro girl of the same age, is in jail here. The children were fighting with their fists today until the girl sought a better weapon. One blow on the boy's head ended the fight and his life.

Forced Into Exile.

Wm. Upchurch, of Glen Oak, Okla., was an exile from home. Mountain air, he thought, would cure a frightful lung-racking cough that had defied all remedies for two years. After six months he returned, death dogging his steps. "Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery," he writes, "and after taking six bottles I am as well as ever." It saves thousands yearly from desperate lung diseases. Infallible for coughs and colds, it dispels hoarseness and sore throat. Cures grip, bronchitis, hemorrhages, asthma, croup, whooping cough. 50c and $1.00, trial bottle free, guaranteed by R. R. Bellamy.

A girl may mean to be ever so polite, but she just can't help looking at the name on a box of candy. Be sure it is the right name—NUNNALLY'S. In polite circles it is recognized as the candy that is always acceptable—and always good.
